

Feature: BeReal - Daily Notification & 2-minute Window

Theme Table:

Theme	Approx. Frequency	What users are saying
Notification Reliability	~35%	Users frequently complain that the daily notification is missing, delayed, or arrives with less than the full two minutes remaining. “Notifications started arriving late—usually by 2 to 4 minutes.”
Spontaneity & Authenticity	~20%	Users like the short window because it limits preparation and encourages genuine, spontaneous posts. “The two-minute posting window encourages spontaneous posts.”
Daily Shared Moment & Habit	~15%	The random daily notification creates a recurring moment that users look forward to and encourages them to post around the same time as friends. “Me and my friends absolutely love it and look forward to beReal time every day.”
Strict 2-Minute Window Creates Time Pressure	~15%	Some users feel two minutes is too restrictive and want more flexibility, while others believe too much flexibility undermines the purpose of the feature. “I’ve missed so many on-time BeReals by just 3 minutes.”
Posting Reliability Within the 2-Minute Window	~15%	Even after receiving the notification, technical issues can prevent users from posting before the timer expires. “Within the two minutes I have to post, I have to close the app multiple times for the camera load which wastes time as the timer ticks.”

Spontaneity and a shared social habit are the main strengths, while unreliable notifications and strict time pressure are key sources of friction.
